VOL. LVIII: NO 50. REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1918. ESTABLISHED 1859.

MARY HANLEY, FORMER REDWOOD TEACHER, PASSES AWAY

Miss Mary Hanley died in San Franacisco Wednesday and was buried yesterday. Miss Hanley was born and raised in this city and lived here all of her life until three years ago when she went to San Francisco to reside with a sister. She was graduated from the local school and became a teacher. In 1876 she began teaching in the Redwood City district at Ravenswood. Two years later she was moved to the town school and taught the fifth grade until 1905 when she resigned to care for her father who had become bed ridden through illness. After his death she taught one year in the Redwood City school and was then retired on a pension by the State Board of Education. In all she taught school in the Redwood City District for thirty-four years. She was a strict disciplinarian and a good teacher. Mary Hanley taught hundreds of boys and girls of this city and she had the love and esteem of every former pupil.

For a number of years Miss Hanley was treasurer of Bonita Parlor, N. S. G. W. and she was continued in her position by the order even after she moved to San Francisco. She was a big woman with a big womanly heart. She taught school and took care of her aged parents and of orphaned nephews and neices.

The funeral was held from Sacred Heart Church, San Francisco yesterday morning and a requeim high mass was celebrated for the repose of her soul. The interment was private, the remains being laid to rest beside those of her parents.

CITY CLERK PRICE VERIFIES NAMES ON "DRY" PETITION

W. A. Price, City Clerk of Redwood City, has verified the names on the "dry" petition filed in his office last week. He found that ten per cent of the registered voters of Redwood City was on the petition as required by law. Action on the petition will be taken by the Board of Town Trustees at its meeting to be held next Monday evening. The laws makes it mandatory for the Board to order this question put upon the ballot, and they no doubt will comply with the law in this respect.

HENRY JEROME FILES ANSWER TO WIFE'S COMPLAINT

Henry Jerome has filed an answer to the divorce suit commenced against him in the superior court some weeks ago by his wife, Mary Naomi Jerome, on the ground of desertion and on the further fact that he is a convicted felon. In his answer Jerome says that personal property valued at $3,841 is in possession of his wife. He objects to the changing of the name of their daughter, Gertrude May Jerome. He contends that she is not a party to the action and therefore cannot change her name under the present proceedings. Jerome asks for half of the community property.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY FILES MANSLAUGHTER COMPLAINTS

District Attorney Franklin Swart prepared two complaints yesterday charging the driver of the jitney on which Corporal Shubert of Camp Fremont was killed at San Carlos late Sunday night and Jack Hearst, chauffeur for Dr. A. T. Leonard. The men will be charged with manslaughter. The warrants will be served this morning by Captain Peterson, chief of Police of Camp Fremont. Shubert boarded the jitney at San Francisco and was riding on the running board of the machine bound for the camp. At San Carlos the Leonard automobile coming in the opposite direction with great speed struck the corporal hurling him from the jitney. CONCERT TO BE GIVEN AT BAPTIST CHURCH TUESDAY

A concert of unusual merit is to be given at the Baptist church on Tuesday evening of next week, Mar. 19th. One of the chief attractions will be the accordion playing of Prof. Jerome Da Monte. Others features of the concert will be musical numbers by concralto, baritone and tenor singers. This talent comes from San Jose. Mr. Pettigrew, a chorus leader of wide experience, being the leader. The concert is being given under the auspices of the Baptist Sunday school to help pay for a New Edison phonograph lately secured. The admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock.

"I CHRISTEN THEE FAITH" AND LARGEST CONCRETE SHIP EVER BUILT IS LAUNCHED IN REDWOOD THURSDAY

For some weeks past there has been considerable apprehension and fear experienced by the promoters and builders and people generally as to the success of the new concrete ship that was launched Thursday afternoon. The promoters staked all on the success of the monster ship. Doubts were entertained as to whether it could be launched successfully. All these doubts and fears were dispelled on Thursday afternoon when the mammoth vessel glided serenely and beautifully from its ways into the stream before a throng of five thousand people who watched breathlessly the sliping of the big vessel into the waters.

A cheer rent the air as the vessel stood majestically in the stream defiantly yet meekly receiving the admiration of the multitudes who stood on the shores excitedly as the leviathan of the deep was towed to the Union Iron Works to have its machinery installed and to receive the finishing touches.

As the massive ship glided to the stream, Harold Heiner, one of those who was instrumental in bringing the shipping firm to Redwood City, stood on the deck of the vessel as it received its baptism. Other employees also were on the deck and so easily and quietly did the big ship slip in to the creek that they were not disturbed.

The promoters had faith in the enterprise, the workmen had faith and the people had faith in the genius of its founders and so the new ship was christened and named "Faith".

The people of Redwood City may well rejoice as the success of the first concrete ship built on the Pacific coast means much to this community. The Redwood City water front will now be a busy place. Ship yards will spring up and Redwood will come into its own.

So truly did the Faith answer to the plans of her builders that not an inch of variance from the designed water-line was reported at bow or stern.

Confident that the new material drafted to their purpose will stand all stress of wind and weather, the masters of the San Francisco shipping world who backed the Faith's construction anounced that they were prepared to begin work forthwith on fifty-four vessels even larger than the Faith, to be completed in eighteen months, if the Federal Shipping Board so directed.

Not a hitch marked the program. The crowd stood silent as the sledges knocked out the last blocks, and Mrs. W. Leslie Comyn, wife of the president of the building company, broke a bottle of California wine on the bow, saying. "I christen thee Faith".

Among those in the guest stand with Comyn and other officers of the San Francisco Shipping Company were Major General John F. Morrison, his aide, Captain L. D. Ford, and Brigadier General Joseph D. Leitch from Camp Fremont. The band of the 301st Cavalry furnished music.

Little Miss Elinor McGettigan, daughter of Secretary E. T. McGettigan of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, presented Mrs. Comyn with a bouquet larger than herself on behalf of the chamber. An inspiring feature were the maneuvers of three big aeroplanes from the Redwood aviation school which circ- white and blue confetti.

Those who witnessed the launching included:

Mayor James Rolph Jr., and his shipping partner, George Hind; Lieutenant H. Hay, representing the French Government; Lieutenant Harold D. Hynds, who came from Washington with Rudolph J. Wig, head of the concrete construction department of the Federal Shipping Board; Major J. W. Manchester of the British Recruiting mission; M. H. de Young, John Lawson of Balfour, Guthrie & Co.; John A. Hooper, Herbert Fleishhacker, Richard J. Hanna, Captain John T. Barneson, Robert L. Fryer, Joseph Tynan, general manager of the Union Iron Works; George F. Massey, Chicago concrete shipbuilder, and George T. Cameron, vice-president of the building company.

The Redwood City Harbor Company, of which Geo. A. Merrill is president, gave the privilege of collecting fares on its railroad extending from Chestnut street to the harbor front where the concrete ship was launched to the local Red Cross Society. The members boarded every train and succeeded in collecting the sum of $118 which was turned over to the treasurer.

REPORT OF SESSION OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The board of supervisors met in regular session, Monday, March 11 at 10 a. m.

Attorney J. B. Gordon of San Mateo appeared before the board in the matter of the annexation of certain uninhabited territory to that city, the hearing of which was set for this day. There being no objections filed before the board, a resolution consenting to the above annexation, was adopted, on motion of Brown, seconded by Francis.

A communication was received from the Social Service Commission, making certain recommendations for withdrawals of county and state aid in a number of individual cases. The recommendations were accepted, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, with the exception of one affecting a needy case in Redwood City.

On motion of Brown, seconded by MacBain, E. W. Florence, superintendent of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in this district, was requested to submit to the board an estimate of the cost of furnishing lighting for the county farm and hospital.

Following out a request from the Supervisors, the County Social Service Commission, submitted a report recommending Miss Lulu Beeger of Redwood City, a Stanford graduate and former teacher in the California School of Mechanical Arts, San Francisco, as an assistant to Miss Elizabeth B. Skeele, executive secretary of the Commission, Miss Beeger consenting to work half of each day for $30 a month for the first three months.

The report and recommendation of the Commission was approved and allowed on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey.

Supervisor MacBain addressed the board and stated that the contract awarded at the last meeting for the plumbing work at the old county jail in Redwood, did not include the installation of fixtures, and it was necessary to cancel the contract which was awarded to P. E. Brand and secure new bids.

The contract awarded Brand was thereupon ordered cancelled, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, and the clerk directed to notify Mr. Brand accordingly.

The following new bids for the plumbing, which would include the installation of the necessary fitures, were then read:

P. E. Brand, $334.
R. C. Holmquist, $365.
Wm. Jamieson, $198.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, the contract was awarded Wm. Jamieson, he being the lowest bidder.

The following communication in reference to the improvement of Santa Cruz avenue, at Menlo Park, was received and read from Capt. John W. Walter, Jr., assistant to the camp quartermaster at Camp Fremont.

DO WE NEED THE SALOON?

Unless the unforseen happens, the question of the elimination of the saloon from Redwood City will be up to the voters at the coming municipal election. And it should be answered in the affirmative by a substantial majority, one which will leave no question as to the general concensus of opinion on the subject.

Beyond the moral question—and there is no doubt that the saloon does not make for moral improvement— there are commercial and patriotic reasons which should appeal to every good citizen why the saloon should be banished from our midst If this city is to continue to ride on its wave of prosperity, the evils of the liquor traffic must be banished.

Undoubtedly much of the present business prosperity of the city is due to the presence of the large number of men under training for the service of their country. These men are attracted to the city in considerable numbers and are patrons of every igitimate line of business. The saloon is—whether justly or unjustly, does not matter—regarded with suspicion by those in authority among the military forces. If, then Redwood City goes on record as willing to countenance the continuance of the saloon in her midst we are liable to lose this valuable commercial asset.

Considerations of patriotism would also dictate that the saloon should be closed. The soldiers of our new army are mostly young men in the beginning of their manhood, the stage of life when they are most easily lead by temptations. As true citizens of this country, we have no right at this serious time to permit this temptation to be flaunted in the face of these men. If we do and harm comes, we are morally responsible.

Good morals, good business and good patriotism, then, would dictate that the saloon must go. In no sense does it contribute to the upbuilding of those conditions which are essential to the support of the Nation in its great struggle for universal manhood. It neither brings to the support of the country wealth nor brawn.

JUST THE MAN WE NEED

Just at this time the office of Town Trustee is one of more than usual importance. With the unusual demands for economy in administration, the city needs the service of experienced business men. This it is generally difficult to obtain, from the fact that men engaged in ordinary mercantile pursuits are loth to accept the office, because of fear that demands of the position may seriously interfere with their business.

Fortunately, we have at this time one candidate who in view of these conditions, is eminently fitted for the place. While thoroughly trained by experience in business affairs, C. M. Doxsee is engaged in a business of a character which cannot be affected by any action of his as a public official. Thus we have a man equipped to give to the city a thorough business administration without being handicapped by commercial considerations.

The candidacy of Mr. Doxsee is one which should appeal strongly to the moral element of the community. A man of clean habits and mode of life, he will unquestionably be found ready to sustain every movement for the betterment of social conditions. At the same time he is a man of such broad minded instincts that he may be trusted by all elements to act with absolute fairness. We need such men as these, and Mr. Doxsee should be elected by a substantial majority.

Suit Dismissed

The suit of the Federal Construction Co., against E. H. Williams, et al. has been dismissed in the Superior Court. The notice of dismissal was filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday.

TELLS OF SIGHTS OF METROPOLIS

Reginald Parker, young son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parker of this city, who enlisted in the U. S. Navy some months ago and who had been located at San Pedro writes as follows from New York. This interesting description of the largest city in the world will be perused by the people of Redwood City:

"This camp is situated on the land side of Long Island Sound, in the limits of and about ten miles from New York City. About 6,000 men are stationed here. The California boys have certainly made a big impression upon the New Yorkers. In fact, at the Saturday night inspection, the Commander, Doctor and Pharmacist, each said we were the best body of men that they had ever seen. Not only that but all the college men from our company were segregated and are to be used as instructors, a preliminary training for the officers' class. And we didn't even have an examination.

We didn't get liberty until Saturday. This is rather a poor place for liberty, every three weeks only. We got it twice a week at San Pedro. The two special companies of college fellows all got liberty, but only one-fourth of the other California boys drew out. Of the Redwood City bunch, only Jack McCrea and I got liberty. We and two other boys decided to take in the city together. Took elevated in, getting off at 42nd street and 3rd avenue, and cutting across to the Nevy Club on Fifth avenue. Here we learned of a good place to room and set out to reserve them before all were taken. After doing this decided to see the skyscrapers. So having a good general knowledge of New York (book learned though), was elected pilot and spokesman for the party. Came up at at Brooklyn bridge station and found ourselves in a square surrounded by the Woolworth, Metropolitan, Singer, city hall, St. Paul, etc. Made a beeline for the Woolworth and entered the elevator lobby. They have a wonderful system of elevators, locals and express. My eye was on the express reading " upper floors to 54th", here started my duty as spokesman. A fifty cent ticket of a bona fide business card is your only pass up the elevators. So I was to have a heart to heart talk with the operator and impress upon him the advisability of taking us to the top. While waiting for the elevator to descend an elderly gentleman of apparent wealth accompanied by, perhaps his wife, rang for the elevator. Nerving myself, I politely inquired if it would be possible for us four to go up to the top floor, having heard so much about the building and having just arrived from California, my story touched the kind heart and he cordially invited us up to the 51st floor with him. Passing the operator with a haughty demeanor we made the 51st unmolested, there we were introduced to the head of the firm that occupied the whole floor, and a very friendly man (a Californian). He instructed his head demonstrator to show us the view from the various windows. We had a wonderful sight of the East River, the bridge, Brooklyn, Lower Manhattan and Statue of Liberty in the distance, the Jersey shore to the Hudson and Upper Manhattan. Then our guide explained about the firm he was working for, a novelty in the business world, a "business labaratory" the whole floor contained room after room of every imaginable make and type of office machines, typewriters, adding, subtracting, multiplying, paying scale, cash registers, etc., too numerous to mention. They issued booklets at regular periods describing new machines as they came out.

In the meantime we learned who our host was Mr. Kilborn and wife, Vice-President of the National City Bank, (largest in the world discount bank of England's Government Funds.) rated to be worth $50,000,000 and in New York notable. About this moment he came in and asked us if we wanted to see a show that evening. Of course, so he phoned the Hipprodrome and had seats reserved (we learned later that all the seats were supposed to be sold out before this) some drag, he said everything was all right. Then suggested we ride with him up to the theater distirtct as he was going that way. The Packard Limousine was waiting at the curve. Also, as spokesman, I sat between Mr. and Mrs. Kilborn in the back seat, the three others occupying the folding and front seats. We found Mr. and Mrs. Kilborn to be very interesting talkers and princely people never feeling in the least ill at ease. As we drove along they pointed out the points of interest. We all excelled ourselves in manners and conversation and must have made a very good impression. For after driving around for sometime Mr. Kilborn thought we boys should have a bite to eat before going to the show. So we drove up to the Shanly's Cabarette (New York's greatest) and Mr. Kilborn went into reserve a table. He came out in a minute followed by the head waiter. Remember this was seven o'clock Saturday night, still his pull rated him a table. He told the waiter to give us anything and as much of it as we wanted, and told us to order the limit, and before elaving he insisted upon calling for us at our hotel at ten o'clock the next morning for a drive around the city. Then the head waiter escorted us to our table, one of the best situated in the house and we sat down in style. Our first act was to look around to see where we were. There were Colonels, Majors, Naval officers of all ranks, silk stove pipe hats silk and lace resplendent, and class abounded on all sides, and many were the approving and caressing smiles we got. Meanwhile I stole a look at the menu, and after some minute deciphering had recognized chicken consumne in the ruck. The others looked hopeless. The head-waiter saved the situation by suggesting that we leave the meal to his discretion and he'd guarantee results. I wont describe the meal, it would only cause gastronomic agony, but can't refrain mentioning the oysters on the shell smothered in ice and the breast of chicken surrounded by mushrooms, and the cabarette—say boys just come over to New York. At the Hipprodrome we found our tickets waiting for us, $2.50 seats, the best in the house from seeing standpoint. Perhaps you know that the Hipprodrome has the largest stage in the world. Evidence, the three elephants on the stage at one time, a locomotive and a freight car at another, then several camels, a swimming pool larger than the Stanford plunge and 5,000 people on at one time. Just like a circus but better.

Then we hiked up and down the Great White Way for a few hours, then the amusement arena class, wildness and everything. The next day at 9:30, the car drew up at the hotel and the chauffeur let us out Mr. Kilborn greeted us warmly and we set out. Stopped at the Waldorf Astoria where he had a brief engagement with the high government official from Washington. Imagine my surprise a moment later when he came out and asked if "It would be all right with us boys if Mr. Darbin accompanied us, as he had expressed a desire to go. And we were all introduced when he came out. Then we started out on our great trip, across to Fifth avenue up this to Central Park, then the drive-way to River side Drive, stopping at Grant's tomb, over to the Bronx, and around several boulevards and back to Riverside, shown theWaldorf where Mr. Darbin said good-bye, down to the sky-scraper district, and then to the grand Central Terminal. After being shown this wonderful depot, went over to the Baltimore Hotel by the sub-way entrance and saw that remarkable resort, the newest and best appointed of the great hotels in the world. Mr. Kilborn pointed out everything as we went along, and it kept us busy seeing the sights and enjoying Mr. Kilborn's conversation. We ended at the Navy Club at 5th avenue, but before going he took our names and addresses and told us to call upon him when ever he could be of service to us.

SEARSVILLE, THE VANISHED

By Mrs. Fremont Older

Searsville was the metropolis of the lumber district in the early days in the Santa Cruz mountains. Not that it was a very large place. It never numbered more than 500 souls, many of them given over much to joy and wild ways of expressing joy. Now only a few recall where Searsville stood.

The town was born when Charley Brown came with an axe to the site of Searsville, bought a part of the Canada del Raimundo grant of John Copinger, and settled with his wife on the site of Searsville. His property, the Mountain Home ranch, was the beginning of the place. In 1852 came John or "Bap" Smith. That same year arrived the Eikerenkotters, who kept a store and a hotel. In 1853 appeared John H. Sears, for whom the place was named. Sears located near the Mountain Home ranch. A reporter on the defunct San Francisco Alta named the place Searsville for John H. Sears, whose family now live in La Honda, where they keep a hotel. About 1854 the Sears house was turned into a hotel. That same year the schoolhouse was established. In 1856 came William Lloyd, the blacksmith. Searsville never seemed to have need of a church. They had too many saloons. Poker, horse racing and fighting were Searsville's attractions.

When the great trees had all been felled and the mills were closed and the reckless millmen had departed, a quiet fell over the town. One by one its inhabitants went elsewhere. Then came the death of the town itself. It was planned in secret councils of the Spring Valley Water Company. Searsville never suspected that Spring Valley had decreed its death. Spring Valley decided to flood out the town; to build a great dam that would necessitate buying everything in Searsville.

Joseph S. Spalding of Mayfield is one of those who sold property in Searsville to the water company. Mr. Spalding has never recovered from his indignation at the manner in which the Spring Valley obtained from him property forth $2,000 for $100. An agent came to him with two women in his buggy, saying that he desired to buy for his clients. Mr. Spalding had had some difficulties with tenants, and so, since women were buying the place he accepted their price. Mr. Spalding's experience was not uncommon. Everyone in Searsville sold, with the exception of one obstinate woman.

In the autumn of 1891 came the great day of the demolition of the town. Frame houses were sold at from $5 to $50. Eikerenkotter's store was hauled to Redwood City and put upon some lots belonging to the family.

The water did not rise as high as was estimated by Spring Valley. Although the buildings have all been moved away from Searsville, there still exist some of the trees planted in the sixties. An old orchard of Alexander Peers in part survives. Two of the most unique trees now in existence in the old town are live oaks planted in 1871 by Mr. Peers. He told the man who did the actual work that he would give him $5 if he made them grow. They not only grew, but today they are 40 feet high. The success of these oak trees shows that it is feasible for persons with imagination and patience to plant with success live oak trees in the foothills.

The oldest Searsville inhabitant still living is Joseph Spalding of Mayfield, who was one of the mill owners and hotelkeepers of the place. The water from the lake is used by Stanford University for irrigation.

The morning hour is given to Bible study beginning at 10:15. The public is invited to this study.

Rabbi Meyer spoke before an interested audience at the forum, Baptist church Sunday evening, on the Jew and the World war, confining himself especially to the home of the Jew—what Palestine is to the world. That land possesses two outstanding monuments Sinari and Calvary. Palestine is important as a political and a cultural factor in the world. It is a bridge between Asia and Northern Africa. Great conquerors have surged through it. All peoples of the world have met here to confer. The Jew, though confined in narrow limits, is well informed because of this. Palescentre. Back of all strife in the world today is the cultural thought and we go to Palestine for it. All nations have manifested an interest in Palestine. Schools, churches and colonies have been established to foster their interests. Because the rich wheat fields of Western Asia and Northern Africa are reached from Palestine nations try to secure a footing here. There is a real Jewish problem. To meet this there have ever been the burning hope of a return to Palestine. There are in Palestine forty-eight Jewish colonies. The Hebrew language is a living language in these colonies. The Jew is fighting in many armies. There are 60,000 in the American army. That is 6 per cent of the army while the Jewish population of America is only 3 per cent. This is a time of much shedding of blood by all peoples. It is to atone for wrong. For it has even been true that without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sin.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Eyre are at Texas for the past month on a visit to their two sons who are enlisted in the army there. On their return to California, Mr. and Mrs. Eyre will open their pretty home at Atherton.

The Moose Club of San Francisco motored down the peninsula Thursday night and gave a big performance at the Knights of Columbus hall at Camp Fremont for the benefit of the soldiers. The entertainment was greatly enjoyed by the boys in khaki.

FOR SALE—An elegant carved mahokany dining room set, beautiful carpets, small tables and fine chairs, some choice rugs and other household goods, kitchen utensils, garden tools, axes, etc., also two fine terrier pups 3 months old. There were 54 votes cast at the sanitary election last Monday. Of those John B. Kelly received 54 for Assessor and Timothy Hopkins 47 and E. J. Pringle 46 as Trustees. There were two trustees and one Assessor to be elected and neither had any opposition. The trustees receive no salary, and the Assessor only receives a small compensation.

Charles Weeks, the well-known poultry man, has purchased the old Crow place of 130 acres. Mr. Weeks intends to sell the property in small holdings to those who want beautiful country places with enough rich soil for vegetables, berries, fruit and flowers, with poultry, rabbits or pigeons for income. The land adjoins the flourishing town of Runnymede.

The two young Germans, proprietors of the Parlor of Sweets, on Monday last were taken to San Franacisco by the Government Secret Service Agents and investigated. They were allowed to return next day to dispose of their business here. They are aliens and according to the army regulations cannot conduct a business within a half mile of any cantonment. They were both enterprising young men and did a profitable business. Their place was largely patronized by army officers.

Miss Margaret Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Stevenson, left last week for service abroad. Her brother, Lieutenant, Fred T. Stevenson, U. S. N., is now engaged in the hazardous work of taking U. S. troops to France. Her brother-in-law, Lieutenant Commander F. L. Reichmuth, is also serving on the North Atlantic Station. Miss Stevenson's work will be that of an Orthoedic Aid in one of the English hospitals. The Stevenson family have resided here for very many years.

James Grant, a former resident of Menlo Park but for some years residing in Portland, has written to friends here. Mr. Grant makes annual trips to his large mining properties in Alaska. He has an interesting family and is quite wealthy. Mr. Grant left here during the Klondike excitement in 1898. He went with the party made up of Thomas Maloney, Joseph J. Bullock, W. Z. Price, H. E. Heiner and J. Ellis. All returned but Ellis and Grant. They remained in the land of the Midnight Sun and became rich.

"Our War Camp Community Service Commission is seeking to serve the men in uniform in every way that is needed. With the coming of large numbers of troops to Menlo Park there is an increasing demand for accomodations for the families of married officers and men who desire to live as near the camp as possible. There is need for housing accomodations and all are urged to rent apartments and rooms, even though they have not rented rooms or apartments in the past. Do so now, and help meet the need that exists near Camp Fremont at the present time. Send all communications to the War Camp Community Service Commission, Camp Fremont or phone Palo Alto 1303.

The Fremont Hotel, Jas. D. Langstine proprietor, has remodeled and refurnished the well-known hostelry at an expense of $3,000. He has erected a beautiful lobby and made the hotel very attractive, so that it may be occupied by officers and their families. All the rooms are magnificently furnished, very attractive and fit for the gods to live in. The hotel was formerly known as the Palm.

22 Million Families in the United States

IF EACH FAMILY saved one cup of wheat flour it would amount to 5,500,000 pounds, or more than 28,000 barrels. If this saving was made three times a week, it would amount to 858,000,000 pounds, or 4,377,000 barrels in a year.

You can do your share in effecting this saving and really help to win the war by omitting white bread from one meal today and baking in its place muffins or corn bread made according to this recipe:

Corn Meal Muffins

¾ cup corn meal	2 tablespoons sugar
1¼ cups flour	No eggs
½ teaspoon salt	1 cup milk
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder	2 tablespoons shortening

Sift dry ingredients together into bowl; add milk and melted shortening and beat well. Bake in greased muffin tins in hot oven about 20 minutes. Same batter may be baked as corn bread in greased shallow pan.

Our new Red, White and Blue booklet, "Best War Time Recipes," containing many other recipes for making delicious and wholesome wheat saving foods mailed free—address
